

8 – 10TH OCTOBER 2010 THE LANGHAM, AUCKLAND

Featuring an exciting line-up of internationally renowned speakers and New Zealand experts, the 2010 Conference will give you the latest brain research and new information about learning differences and show you how to help learners with SLD/Dyslexia succeed in the classroom.

Full programme and to register visit www.speld.org.nz
Earlybird registrations close 9th July
Phone: 09 624 0839
Email: eospeldauckland@clear.net.nz

INTERNATIONALLY ACCLAIMED SPEAKERS

Speaking for the first time ever in New Zealand, Dr Lindsay Peer, CBE, is an educational psychologist in the UK, widely recognised as an expert in learning difficulties, special needs and mainstream education. Her keynote addresses focus on low self-esteem in dyslexics, and dyslexia-friendly schools and universities.

Australian academic, Dr Lorraine Hammond, will present her latest research for the first time in New Zealand.

'Bridging the gap between research and the practice of teaching reading' reveals her findings from the classrooms of 30 Western Australian primary school teachers.

Keynote speakers also include Karen Waldie, University of Auckland and Nathan Mikaere-Wallis, Canterbury University. Sian Jacquet – dyslexic, life coach and motivator – is the entertaining after-dinner speaker at the Conference Dinner.

Full programme and to register visit www.speld.org.nz
Earlybird registrations close 9th July
Phone: 09 624 0839
Email: eospeldauckland@clear.net.nz

