

Song for the one in ten

4:00AM Thursday Jun 11, 2009

To mark next week's Dyslexia Action Week, musicians Don McGlashan, SJD and dDub have collaborated on a song which is released – as a free download – today.

The song The Closer You Get, The Bigger I Look was written by McGlashan, and was "inspired by the challenges of difference and celebrates the creative gifts that dyslexia can bring".

Performed by roots band dDub, it was recorded and produced in a day by Sean "SJD" Donnelly.

There is an accompanying video which The Dyslexia Foundation hopes will help raise awareness of the condition thought to affect one in 10 New Zealanders.

The track is available from: www.dyslexiafoundation.org.nz/biggerilook dDub have teamed up with SJD and Don McGlashan to release a song in support of dyslexia. Photo / Supplied